MEDIA RELATIONS STAFF

Randy Stacy
Media Relations
Director

Randy Stacy enters his 18th year as Media Relations Director after serving 16 months in the MSU Development Office.

Stacy, a 1977 graduate of Morehead State, is the former assistant sports information director at the University of Kentucky.

He served as men's sports information director at MSU for a brief time in 1977, before assuming a full-time position at Tennessee Tech.

The native of Carr Creek, Ky., and graduate of Carr Creek High School, also served as a graduate assistant in the MSU Office of Public Information and was a news and sports reporter at WMKY radio.

Stacy is a member of College Sports Information Directors of America (CoSIDA) and serves as the national chairperson of the membership services committee. He and his wife, Jeanetta, have two sons, Brad and Jared. They reside in Morehead.

Brenda Kissinger
Media Relations
Secretary Specialist

Brenda Kissinger is in her 19th year as secretary in the Media Relations Office and assists with all facets of the department's operations.

She previously spent five years as secretary to former MSU athletic director G.E. "Sonny" Moran.

Kissinger has four children, Melissa, Bill, J.R. and Rick, and four grandchildren, Jonathan, Joshua, Jaclyn and Ashley. She resides in Olive Hill, Ky.

Jason Blanton
Eagle Sports Network

Back for his seventh year doing the Lady Eagle broadcasts, Jason Blanton is a veteran of broadcasting Morehead State events. He previously did contests in 1992-93 and 1994-95 for the Eagle Sports Network, and has been part of the football and men's basketball broadcast team for the last several years.

A lifelong Johnson County resident, Blanton graduated from Morehead State and works in the University Communications Office. He was a member of the Eagle Sports Network while a student at MSU and hosted the "Eagle Scoreboard." In 1995, he served as the sideline reporter for MSU football games.

He has also done play-by-play for Pikeville College, the Schoolboy Radio Network and the All "A" Classic Radio Network, in which he serves as co-coordinator.

Blanton, who lives in Oil Springs, Ky., has a daughter, Marigrace.

The Coaches

Laura L. Litter

2001-02 Ohio Valley Conference Coach of the Year

Coach Laura L. Litter enters her eighth year with one of the youngest teams in school history. There are no seniors on the squad and 11 of the 15 players on the roster only have one year or less of collegiate experience.

Litter has led the resurgence of the program. The Lady Eagles have made the Ohio Valley Conference tournament in each of the last four seasons, including averaging eight league wins a season over that stretch, a feat never before accomplished at MSU.

Against an extremely challenging schedule last year, that included national powers, Georgia, Miami (Fla.) and Louisville, Morehead State finished with a 10-18 overall record and a 7-9 conference mark. The two previous seasons, MSU put together back-to-back top four finishes in the OVC and won at least 16 games, marking the first time a Lady Eagle squad has accomplished that feat since 1981-83.

The 2001-02 Ohio Valley Conference Coach of the Year, Litter's teams have been among the conference scoring leaders, and also one of the stingiest defenses. Over her seven years at the helm of the program, Litter's clubs have set or tied Morehead State single-season marks in blocks, steals, free throw percentage and three-pointers. Her 2001-02 team set school records with 10 OVC wins and 11 home victories, boasted the program's first 20-win season since 1981-82 and its highest league finish since 1982-83. That squad also set a new school mark for one-season turnaround by winning 11 more games than the previous year.

Litter expects to continue to build upon her previous successes during stints as the head coach at Sullivan College and Lees College. In her 22-year coaching career, Litter has been one of the most successful mentors in the game. As a player and assistant coach at MSU in the late '70s and early '80s, Litter experienced some of the program's greatest successes.

The two-time Morehead State University graduate was hired on April 7, 1997, and proceeded to lead her team to a 7-19 record in her first campaign. In 1998-99, the Lady Eagles collected a 5-21 mark, followed by a 2-25 injury-marred campaign in 1999-2000. In 2000-01, the team finally showed some of its potential, finishing with a 10-19 record, before breaking through with a 21-8 record in 2001-02, and following it up with a 16-12 mark last winter. Those first four years are the only non-winning seasons in her 22-year career.

With an overall record of 507-207, Litter's teams have posted 17 seasons with 20 or more wins. In six years, her teams have won 30 or more games, while competing in the national tournament four times, including finishing third in the nation in 1993-94. She entered Morehead State with a career winning percentage of 84 percent. She won her 500th game last winter over Charleston Southern.

Her most recent stop prior to MSU was as the eight-year mentor at Sullivan College in Lexington, Ky. There, she began the program and proceeded to notch a 30-2 record in the team's first season of play. By the time she left, she had compiled a 233-30 overall record at the school, won conference titles in each year and advanced to the National Junior College Athletic Association Region VII Tournament all eight times.

At Sullivan, Litter coached two NJCAA first-team and three second-team All-Americans, as well as three Kodak first-team All-Americans. In addition, her high-powered offense generated an NJCAA scoring record in 1993-94 by averaging 107.6 points per game, and was ranked as high as third in the national poll.

The Executives were a staple of the NJCAA Region VII Tournament from 1990 through 1997. Sullivan had its greatest success under Litter in her fourth year in Lexington. That season, the program advanced all the way to the "Final Four", before losing by eight points to eventual national champion Trinity Valley (TX) and finishing third.

But, her teams did more than just get it done on the court. Each one of her players that completed two years at the school either received their Associate's Degree or transferred to a four-year institution. Included among the future stops of her student-athletes were such notable basketball powers as Western Kentucky, Maryland, Auburn, Kentucky, Louisville and Drake. In total, 34 went on to play in college and 22 earned a spot on an NCAA Division I roster.

Her first head-coaching venture was no different. Litter spent eight years pacing the sidelines of Lees College in Jackson, Ky., where she was responsible for taking over the reigns of a new program. The Lady Generals were in existence two years prior to her arrival. She subsequently tacked up a 203-55 record in eight years at the school.

At Lees, her squad won six conference titles and competed in the NJCAA Tournament eight times. She sent 25 athletes on to play at Division I schools after they completed their careers at Lees. Of the 39 who played two years, 35 either graduated or went on to finish their degree at another school.

Combined between her stops at the two schools, Litter earned 11 Kentucky Junior College Athletic Conference Coach of the Year honors and four NJCAA Region VII Coach of the Year awards in her 16-year reign. In addition, she was recognized by Lees College, which placed her in its Hall of Fame in 1995.

Litter's squads have always excelled in the classroom. Last winter, the Lady Eagles posted the nation's eighth-best grade point average among Division I programs at 3.349. It is the second time in her career that Morehead State was honored by the Women's Basketball Coaches Association (WBCA) on its Academic Top 25 Team Honor Roll.

In addition, in each of her seven years at the helm of the Lady Eagles, at least one of her players has received the Ohio Valley Conference Medal of Honor for having the highest GPA among all women's basketball players in the league, including two receiving the award last year. Former Lady Eagle Abby Adams is only the league's second four-time women's basketball honoree. Litter's teams have consistently tallied one of the highest GPAs in the athletic department, regularly surpassing a 3.0. In addition, 46 times under her tutelage, a Lady Eagle has been recognized on the

Litter scored 15 points and had 10 rebounds during the 1976-77 season, before an injury ended her playing career early.

Community service is another major tenant of Litter's programs. Her players are actively involved in campus and community activities of all kinds. Regularly, the Lady Eagle players and coaches can be seen out in the community helping with such events as raking leaves for shut-ins, building renovation, bagging groceries, wrapping holiday gifts for the needy, reading to elementary school children and hosting events for area youth. Under Litter, the Lady Eagles also have been active in fundraisers for several causes, including Breast Cancer Awareness and the Clearfield Elementary School.

In addition, Litter has mentored several Lady Eagles who have been distinguished for their academic, athletic, community service and leadership skills. Former Lady Eagle Travece Turner was the University's first-ever NCAA Woman of the Year state honoree, while another, Kandi Brown was recognized by the OVC as its Steve Hamilton Sportsmanship honoree. Brown and another Litter pupil, Amy Spear, also have earned MSU's Laughlin-Miller award for their all-around achievements.

A highly-sought after prep product from Chillicothe, Ohio, Litter played the 1976-77 year at Morehead State, before succumbing to a career-ending injury. She remained at MSU, first as a student assistant, then eventually as a graduate assistant coach, under Mickey Wells, serving through the 1980-81 campaign.

She earned her bachelor's degree in recreation and business administration in 1980, and then her master's degree in education in 1981, both from MSU. She resides in Morehead.

COACH LITTER'S PHILOSOPHY

"No written word, no oral plea, can teach our youth what they should be; nor all the books, on all the shelves, it's what the teachers are themselves."

THE LADY EAGLE FAMILY

Family is very important to Coach Litter, and several of her own family members accompany the team on many of its trips. In addition, she incorporates members of the University and local community into the team's extended family. Lady Eagle fans are seen at almost every game. Some of the familiar faces include:

Corbett Grigsby
Associate Head
Coach

Corbett Grigsby returns for his eighth year on the Lady Eagles' staff as the associate head coach, but has worked with Coach Laura L. Litter for the past 23 years, starting as the athletic director and the recruiting coordinator at Lees College from 1978 to 1989.

After his stint at Lees, Grigsby and Litter moved on to Sullivan College from 1989-1997, where Grigsby took on the same responsibilities he held at Lees. At Morehead State, he directs the Lady Eagles' recruiting efforts, handles the scheduling, while also performing administrative duties.

Grigsby first entered into the coaching field in 1978 at Lees College. He served as athletic director when the women's basketball programs were begun at Lees and Sullivan, starting the team at Lees two years before Litter's arrival. During his stay at the two schools, Grigsby's teams compiled a 476-104 record.

Over his 22 years, Grigsby's squads have won 30 or more games six times and 20 or more 13 times. Ninety percent of the players he recruited at his two previous stops either graduated or transferred to a four-year school. Five of those athletes also were named as All-Americans.

Prior to his coaching career, Grigsby taught in the Breathitt County (Ky.) school system. He has earned two degrees, both at institutions he later returned to as a coach. The 1962 Morehead State graduate earned his bachelor's degree in social studies, after receiving an associate's from Lees College in 1960.

A native of Jackson, Ky., Grigsby and his wife, Ruby, reside in Lexington, Ky. They have two children, Stephen and Joy, and two grandchildren, Cory and Rachael.

Naomi Bronson
Assistant Coach

Back for her third year as a full-time assistant coach and fourth season on the Lady Eagle staff, Naomi Bronson will continue to assist with practice and game coaching, recruiting, scouting, film exchange and breakdown, individual preseason workouts, academic monitoring, running the strength and conditioning program, and assisting with the community service program.

She served as a graduate assistant for the first few months of the 2001-02 year, before being promoted to a full-time assistant in mid-November. She spent her first year on the coaching staff as an administrative assistant. She is pursuing her master's degree in industrial technology and serves as the Fellowship of Christian Athletes staff representative.

A 2001 graduate of MSU, Bronson earned her degree in industrial technology. A two-year standout with the Lady Eagles, Bronson averaged 6.1 points, 4.5 rebounds and 1.9 assists over 56 games, starting 34.

As a senior, she connected on 47 percent of her shots as the top backcourt player off the bench. That mark was raised to 52.5 percent in conference games.

As a junior, she was second on the team in rebounding at 6.1 per game, in assists with 84 and steals with 41. She was the OVC's top rebounding guard, sitting seventh, and also ranked seventh in the league in offensive rebounds.

Bronson began her career at Cincinnati State Technical College, where she was a second-team All-American as a sophomore. In addition, she was the Region 12 Player of the Year that season. In her freshman year, the Lady Surge qualified for the NJCAA Championships.

The Cincinnati native is a graduate of Finney-town High School.

She is single and resides in Morehead, Ky.

Michelle Henstock
Graduate Assistant
Coach

Joining the Lady Eagle staff this season is Michelle Henstock, who has an extensive coaching background in her native Australia. She will assist with film exchange, the weight and conditioning program, coordinate study table, and assist with on-court coaching, practice planning and individual workouts. Henstock is pursuing her master's in sport management.

Her most recent stint came leading the New South Wales Regional Development as the head coach of the North Metro team, a position she held for two years. She also has been a Network coach at the New South Wales Intensive Training Centre from October 1997 until joining the MSU staff in August. For the past eight years, she also was the head coach of New South Wales age division teams in the Metropolitan League.

From November 2001 to February 2002, Henstock served as the assistant coach of the New South Wales Under 20 team, which earned the bronze medal at the national championships. She also served as the New South Wales Under 18 coach at the Sydney Olympic Youth Festival.

In January 2001, Henstock served as the New South Wales Metropolitan Under 18 team coach, which participated in the Eltham Classic Tour Victoria. Other coaching experiences included the New South Wales Harboursiders Under 15 team coach, and the state's Under 15 Talented Athlete Programme coach.

As a player, Henstock spent nine years playing club basketball in the Australian Basketball Association Women's Open Division. Most recently, she was a member of the Sydney Comets.

A native of Gosford, New South Wales, Australia, Henstock earned her bachelor's degree from the University of New South Wales in 1996.

She is single and resides in Morehead, Ky.

Tina Wagoner

Secretary

After serving in numerous capacities as a undergraduate and graduate student at MSU, Tina Wagoner joined the athletic staff full-time in August 2004 as the secretary in the women's basketball office.

Wagoner earned both her master's and bachelor's degrees from Morehead State. She completed her master's in sport management in the summer of 2004, earning a perfect 4.0 GPA. While pursuing that degree, she served as a Marketing and Event Management graduate assistant.

Wagoner also completed her undergraduate degree with a 4.0 GPA, while studying communication, with an emphasis in advertising and public relations. She received her bachelor's in May 2002.

An accomplished student, she was recognized on the National Dean's List and was honored at MSU as both the Outstanding Undergraduate in Mass Communication and the Outstanding Undergraduate in Public Relations in 2002. She also was a member of the Phi Kappa Phi Honors Society. In addition, Wagoner belonged to both the MSU Academic Honors Program and the Gamma Beta Phi Honors Society. As an undergraduate, she also was a member of the MSU Speech Team for four years.

The Morehead, Ky., native also served as a work study in the Athletic Director's Office and an internship in the Sports Information Department. Other experiences include serve as an intern in the Rowan County High School Athletic Department and as a graduate assistant in the MSU Department of Health, Physical Education and Sport Sciences. In addition, she was a computer specialist/data entry professional for the National Youth Sports Program (NYSP).

Wagoner is single and resides in Morehead.

Sara Larson,

ATC

Athletic Trainer

Sara Larson, ATC, returns for her third year on the MSU athletic training staff, serving this season as a Staff Assistant. She has been promoted to a full-time Assistant Athletic Trainer, effective January 2005, but in the meantime also serves as an adjunct professor in the sport management program.

Larson earned her master's degree in sports and recreation administration from MSU in May 2004 and has served as the women's basketball team's athletic trainer since arriving at the university as a graduate assistant in August of 2002. She also has worked with the football and women's soccer teams during her tenure with MSU.

A four-year student athletic trainer at Missouri, Larson graduated in May 2002 with a degree in nutritional sciences, with an emphasis in nutrition and fitness.

At Missouri, Larson worked with women's basketball from 1998 to 1999, football for five semesters, softball and women's tennis for four, and women's volleyball and baseball for one semester each. In addition, she volunteered with the Special Olympics in the spring of 2000, the 2001 Missouri State Cheerleading Championships and the 2001 Missouri Wrestling Open. Larson also has served as an athletic trainer at women's basketball and softball camps. She has already received her athletic training certification

The native of Bowling Green, Mo., and graduate of Bowling Green High School has been an athletic trainer since she was in the seventh grade. She spent four years on the track and field team at BGHS and was a member of the Alpha Beta Gamma Honor Society at the school.

A member of the National Athletic Trainers Association (NATA), she received Missouri's Fred Wappel Most Outstanding Student Trainer for the 1999-2000 school year and was honored in the spring of 2002 by her peers with the Dr. Glenn L. McElroy Award. Larson also was a four-year member of the University of Missouri Sports Medicine Club, serving as its president (spring of 2000), vice-president (fall of 2001) and secretary (2000-01 year).

In addition to her other experiences, Larson has worked as a swim instructor, lifeguard and an emergency manager for the City of Columbia (Mo.), in the summers of 2000 and 2001.

Larson is single and resides in Morehead.

COMMUNITY SERVICE

Morehead State student-athletes have always been very active in the community. The Lady Eagle basketball team is no exception. Since Coach Litter has taken over the program, the Lady Eagles have been even more involved in many local activities. Among their many endeavors include establishing a ball girl program, reading to children, helping the elderly and home bound, and beautifying the community. The Lady Eagles can frequently be seen at events all over Morehead and Rowan County lending their support. Coach Litter, her staff and the team believe in the importance donating their time and talents in giving back to the community which has been so supportive of their program.

A DAY IN THE LIFE OF THE LADY EAGLES

WHERE ARE THEY NOW?

Among the most successful classes in Morehead State women's basketball history, the four seniors on the 2003-04 team have continued their successes into their professional lives. At MSU, they compiled 57 wins during their careers, the best mark in a four-year period by any Lady Eagle since 1985-89. In addition, their 31 Ohio Valley Conference victories were the most ever by an MSU four-year class. Off the court, they excelled as well, making five appearances on the OVC Commissioner's Honor Roll and earning recognition eight times on the MSU Dean's List.

THE OHIO VALLEY CONFERENCE

Entering its 57th year, the Ohio Valley Conference continues to build on the success that has made it the nation's eighth-oldest NCAA Division I conference. In 2003, the OVC extended its geographical footprint into Alabama for the first time, expanding the league's membership to a record 11 institutions.

The OVC's proud past dates back to 1948, but seeds for the new league were actually planted in 1941. It was then that Roy Stewart, the athletics director at Murray State, Charles (Turkey) Hughes, the athletics director at Eastern Kentucky, and Kelly Thompson, the public relations director at Western Kentucky, first broached the idea of forming a new conference. Discussions were put on hold by World War II, but re-emerged Feb. 27-28, 1948 at the Kentucky Hotel in Louisville as the three original institutions combined with Morehead State, Louisville and Evansville to form the OVC.

In the 1950's, the OVC became a pioneer on a much more significant scale socially. During times of racial segregation, league member Morehead State became one of the first non-traditionally black mid-southern institutions to accept a black student. In 1958, Marshall Banks earned athletically-related aid at Morehead, which signed a second black athlete, Howard Murphy, a year later. In 1961, Murphy earned all-conference recognition as a halfback in football. With racial barriers broken, the rest of the institutions in the league began to provide educational and athletic opportunities to African-Americans.

In the late 1970's, women's athletics began somewhat of a rebirth on the national scene as the NCAA began sponsoring and marketing women's sports. Recognizing the need to provide increased opportunities for female athletes, the OVC established women's championships in the sports of basketball, tennis, and track and field in 1977, with cross country and volleyball added over the next four years. Those sports were initially governed by the Association of Intercollegiate Athletics for Women, but the overall strength of women's programs in the league was demonstrated by the automatic bids the OVC received when the NCAA became the governing body in 1982.

Women's basketball in the OVC has been dominated by Tennessee Tech, which has won or shared 15 regular-season titles and owns nine OVC Tournament titles. In fact, the Golden Eagles have reached the championship game of the OVC Tournament 18 times in the past 23 years. Although Tennessee Tech remains the standard-bearer, three other teams have won eight of the last 11 OVC Tournaments, including Austin Peay, which has won five crowns, including the last four. Tennessee State has two tourney titles (1994-95) during that span while Eastern Kentucky has one (1997).

Several coaches have made their mark in the relatively short history of OVC women's basketball. Former Tennessee Tech coach Marynell Meadors posted an amazing 363-139 (72.3%) record at Tech, becoming the first woman in NCAA or AIAW history to win 300 games at the same institution, while former Tennessee State skipper Teresa Phillips earned National Coach of the Year honors from USA Today in 1990 for turning around the Lady Tigers' program before going on to lead TSU to the NCAA Tournament in 1994 and 1995. Larry Joe Inman has won more than 100 games at both Middle Tennessee State and Eastern Kentucky, and has earned OVC Coach of the Year honors seven times - four at EKV and three at MTSU. Tennessee Tech's Bill Worrell has led the Golden Eagles to eight NCAA Tournament appearances in the last 18 seasons, including five straight from 1989-93.

Many great players have graced the hardwood over the years, including former OVC Players of the Year Brooke Armistead and Gerlonda Hardin from Austin Peay; Pam Chambers, Jerilyn Harper, Cheryl Taylor, Angela Moorehead, Roschelle Vaughn, Diane Seng and Janet Holt from Tennessee Tech; Morehead State's Donna Murphy and Priscilla Blackford; Eastern Kentucky's Kim Mays and Southeast Missouri's Gray C. Harris.

Through the early years of the league, administrators wrestled with fan behavior due to the close proximity of the conference members and the intense rivalries which developed. Just as it did decades ago, the OVC took the leadership role on what has become a national issue. In 1995, the OVC implemented a first-of-its-kind "Sportsmanship Statement", a policy which promotes principles of fair play, ethical conduct and respect for one's opponent. The statement has become a model for others to follow across the nation, and has answered the challenge of the NCAA Presidents Commission to improve sportsmanship in collegiate athletics.

Over its 56 years, OVC teams have garnered national championships and bowl games in football, along with national team or individual titles in the sports of rifle, cross country, track and field and golf.

The OVC has also produced several Olympic athletes, including Murray State's Morgan Hicks, who is a member of the 2004 United States Olympic Rifle Team, and gold-medal bobsledder Brian Shimer of Morehead State. In addition, some of the greatest players in professional sports were educated at OVC institutions. The list includes former greats such as basketball's Clem Haskins (Western Kentucky) and Bubba Wells (Austin Peay), and two-sport star Steve Hamilton (Morehead State); to present-day standouts like basketball players "Popeye" Jones (Murray State) and Trenton Hassell (Austin Peay); football players Chad Bratzke (Eastern Kentucky), Marquis Walker (Southeast Missouri State), Chris Watson (Eastern Illinois) and Brent Alexander (Tennessee State); baseball players Brandon Berger (Eastern Kentucky), Kirk Rueter (Murray State), Kerry Robinson (Southeast Missouri State) and Jamie Walker (Austin Peay); and professional golfer Jeff Sluman (Tennessee Tech).

The playing field isn't the only place where OVC athletes are working hard. The league also recognizes excellence in the classroom. The prestigious OVC Academic Achievement Banner is awarded annually to the league school whose athletes produce the highest grade point average when compared to the general student body. Also, six Scholar-Athlete Awards are presented yearly to male and female athletes, while others are commended for their academic success by being Medal of Honor recipients or earning a spot on the Commissioner's Honor Roll. Additionally, the Steve Hamilton Sportsmanship Award, in honor of the former Morehead State student-athlete, coach and athletics director, is presented annually to a junior or senior student-athlete with significant athletic contributions who best exemplifies the characteristics of sportsmanship and citizenship. An institutional sportsmanship award is also presented annually to a Conference institution deemed by its peers to have best exhibited the standards of sportsmanship and ethical conduct as outlined by the OVC and NCAA.

The Ohio Valley Conference sponsors the following sports: baseball, basketball, cross country, football, golf, tennis, and indoor and outdoor track and field for men; and basketball, cross country, golf, soccer, softball, tennis, indoor and outdoor track and field, and volleyball for women. In addition, the OVC also sponsors the combined men's and women's sport of rifle.

Over the last decade, the league has grown, not only in the number of athletics opportunities it provides for students, but in terms of the number of institutions in the conference. In 2003, Jacksonville State University and Samford University became the newest members of the OVC, joining Southeast Missouri State University (1991), the University of Tennessee at Martin (1992) and Eastern Illinois University (1996) as the league's most recent additions. Other current representatives include charter members Eastern Kentucky University, Morehead State University and Murray State University, along with Austin Peay State University, Tennessee State University and Tennessee Technological University.

Members of the OVC office staff include Dr. Jon A. Steinbrecher, Commissioner; Ron English, Associate Commissioner for Operations; Kim Melcher, Assistant Commissioner for Media Relations; Kyle Yeager, Director of External Affairs; Donyale Canada, Director of Championships; Lee Moses, Director of Institutional Services; Susan Brischke, Director of Business and Finance/CFO; Heather Brown, Assistant Director for Media Relations; and Sue Erman, Administrative Assistant.

OVC TOURNAMENT

GAME INFORMATION

The top eight teams qualify for the OVC Tournament, with the top four seeds hosting first round games on Tuesday, Mar. 1. The semifinals and finals will be played at the Gaylord Entertainment Center in Nashville, Tenn., on Friday, Mar. 4 and Saturday, Mar. 5. The conference tournament champion earns an automatic bid to the NCAA Championships.

TIE BREAKERS

Two Way—Head-to-head competition is the first criteria, if the two teams split their meetings, then the records versus the highest seed are compared. This process continues through the No. 11 seed. If the tie remains, the seeds will be determined by a coin flip.

Multiple*—Composite records between the tying teams are evaluated first. The tying teams are then compared against the records of the highest seed. This process continues through the No. 11 seed. If the tie remains, the seeds will be determined by a coin flip.

NOTE—Once a multiple tie has been reduced to two teams, the two-way formula is used.

EVENT HISTORY

Tournament champions (1982-04)—Tennessee Tech (9), Middle Tennessee State (6), Austin Peay (5), Tennessee State (2), Eastern Kentucky (1).

The MSU mascot, Beaker, is a fixture at Lady Eagle games.

After earning four letters with the Lady Eagles, Abby Adams graduated last spring with a perfect 4.0 GPA, becoming just the second women's basketball player in league history to collect four OVC Medals of Honor.

The Academic-Athletic Center and the Ellis T. Johnson Arena have been the home for Lady Eagle basketball practices and games since the Fall of 1981. Ground was broken for the structure in the Spring of 1978. The building was erected at a cost of $7,035,000 and it was opened for occupancy by the athletic staff on June 1, 1981. The Lady Eagles won their opening regular-season contest in the building on December 3, 1981, over the University of Charleston (W.Va.), 95-67.

The first university function held in the Academic-Athletic Center was spring commencement on May 9, 1981. Since then, the arena has hosted concert performances by Alabama, David Letterman, M.C. Hammer, the Goo Goo Dolls, Blessed Union of Souls, Nappy Roots and Sawyer Brown, to mention a few. The arena also plays host to the 16th regional boys and girls' high school basketball tournaments annually during March.

Ellis T. Johnson Arena seats 6,500 spectators, and additional seating can be added for concerts and other speaking engagements. A hydraulic stage, located at the east end of the arena, can be raised up to six feet above floor level for simple conversion from a basketball floor to an auditorium platform. Ten sections of the arena are fixed with blue chairback seating, two sections have gold cushioned chairback seats and the remaining seating is in bleacher form.

The AAC houses offices for the entire athletic department, except football, baseball, rifle, cross country/track and field, and athletic training.

The square-shaped building was the result of over four years of careful planning. Preliminary planning, which originally called for the renovation of Wetherby Gymnasium, began in 1975. Located in the complex are a gymnastics room, a VIP room, a booster's lounge, a weight room, sauna and steam rooms, four concession areas and a number of storage areas.

Another part of the AAC structure is an L-shaped swimming pool and diving area. The aquatic facility, which cost approximately $1.5 million, has seating for 300 spectators, and was the home of the MSU swim and dive teams through 1995, before the program was discontinued. In addition, deep under the floor, there is an underwater viewing area for instructors to watch students' swimming and diving styles. An underwater speaker system also is available to assist instructors.

Since beginning play at the Academic-Athletic Center in 1981, the Lady Eagle basketball team has posted a 151-127 record, for a .543 winning percentage. MSU has posted 14 winning seasons in 23 years of play in the arena, and won a school-record 11 games in 2001-02.

Locker Room

Besides having a first-rate facility in which to play and practice, the Lady Eagles also have a top-notch locker room with all of the amenities, including a large-screen television and a VCR to view game tapes and scout opponents, plus a lounge area with a sofa where they can relax. The locker room also is directly connected to the training room in the AAC, offering the athletes easy access to gain any necessary treatment.

The University

Morehead and Rowan County

Morehead, Kentucky, is a community of nearly 10,000, nestled in the foothills of the Appalachian Mountains in the Daniel Boone National Forest. It serves as the educational, medical, recreational, and cultural center of rural northeast Kentucky and is known as the "Hardwood Capital of the World." Situated on the state's major east-west highway, Interstate 64, Morehead is 58 miles west of Ashland, Ky., and the border of West Virginia, and 65 miles east of Kentucky's second-most populated city, Lexington.

It's centralized location allows many parts of the Eastern and Midwestern United States to be readily accessible. Among the major cities within a day's drive are Washington, D.C.; Baltimore; Charlotte; Raleigh, N.C.; Atlanta; Knoxville, Tenn.; Nashville; Cincinnati; Dayton, Ohio; Columbus, Ohio; Cleveland; Pittsburgh; Indianapolis; Detroit; Chicago; St. Louis; Memphis; Birmingham, Ala.; and Louisville, Ky.

Located in the heart of Rowan County, Morehead affords a wealth of activities for the outdoorsman. Just six miles from downtown is beautiful 8,270-acre, man-made Cave Run Lake, an area nationally-known for its recreation opportunities and the fifth-largest body of water in Kentucky. Hiking, biking, swimming, boating, fishing, water skiing, canoeing, bird watching, camping, or enjoying the solitude of nature are some of the highlights of the activities at Cave Run Lake. The lake is known as the "Muskie Fishing Capital of the South" and hosts numerous tournaments there each year. Daniel Boone National Forest, within which Cave Run Lake is entirely located, is visited by over five million people annually.

Carter Caves, just 25 miles from Morehead, in nearby Carter County is another popular outdoor spot just a short drive down I-64. The historic town of Maysville, Ky., a major stopover point on the Civil War-era Underground Railroad, is located 45 minutes north on the Ohio River, also offers more entertainment options. Morehead also is home to the Minor E. Clark Fish Hatchery, the largest fresh water fish hatchery in the U.S.

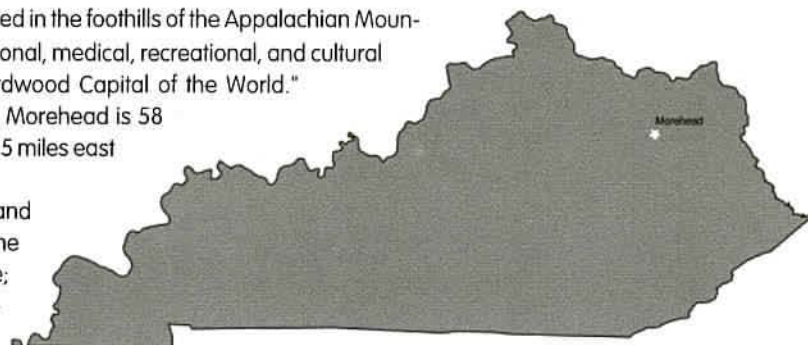

Golf is another popular outdoor activity in Morehead. Three courses are within county limits. Eagle Trace Golf Course is an 18-hole, par-72 course, which has hosted both the state's men's and women's amateur championship and has been given four stars by Golf Digest. Two other nine-hole courses, Sheltowee Trail Golf Course and Morehead State University's Sunnybrook Golf Course are open to the public and offer inexpensive opportunities which can challenge players of all skill levels.

What about arts and crafts? Morehead is the home of the Kentucky Folk Art Center, the only center of its kind in the state, dedicated to the skills of unschooled artisans. For fine art, stop by the Pine Grove Gallery or the Claypool-Young Art Gallery, located on the campus of Morehead State University. Several local craft and antique shops are dotted throughout the community.

If you're interested in festivals, June and September are a busy time in Morehead, when the festival season is in full swing. Among the annual events, the area hosts the Folk Arts Festival, Sorghum Festival, Storytelling Festival, Harvest Festival, Poppy Mountain Festival, Bluegrass 'N More Festival, Appalachian Celebration, Hometown Holidays and Court Days, plus numerous horse shows.

Morehead also has an outstanding theatre guild for those who are looking for other cultural experiences. The group puts on productions throughout the year. Morehead State University also annually hosts concerts from nationally-prominent bands of all musical genres.

In addition, there are several restaurant and shopping options, including many in the renovated downtown area.

Morehead State University

Morehead State University

In 117 years, the sweep of history has carried Morehead State University and its predecessor institution, the Morehead Normal School, from one makeshift classroom to the high-tech world of Internet-based classes and a radio telescope/space tracking system which reaches from a campus ridgetop literally to the stars.

Recently, Morehead State was ranked by the U.S. News and World Report among the top 25 public universities in the South.

One student appeared on the first day of class in October, 1887, in a little, rented cottage where the Adron Doran University Center now stands. Tens of thousands of students have come from the foothills and mountains, the river towns and the hillside farms of East Kentucky and beyond to seek the means to a better life in this beautiful, forested valley. Our first president, Frank Button, and his widowed mother, Phebe, literally spent their lives bringing "a light to the mountains" by founding a church-sponsored school to train teachers. The institution came under state control in 1922 and achieved university status in 1966.

Today, Morehead State University has nearly 9,300 students from 100 Kentucky counties, 42 states and 37 nations. They are enrolled on campus, at regional campuses in Ashland, Jackson, Mount Sterling, Prestonsburg and West Liberty, and several other locations in East Kentucky and across the globe through the World Wide Web. MSU has the state's best computer-student ratio in its computer laboratories and the campus is ranked among the safest in the nation.

Almost 50,000 persons have received degrees from MSU. Nearly 80 degree programs are available on the two-year, four-year and graduate levels through four colleges (Caudill College of Humanities, College of Business, College of Education, and College of Science and Technology) and the Institute for Regional Analysis and Public Policy. Two-thirds of the faculty hold doctoral degrees. MSU supports its missions of teaching, applied research and public service through an annual budget of $100 million.

Morehead State was the first institution in Kentucky to offer a complete degree program, the Master of Business Administration (MBA), totally through the World Wide Web. In addition, the University hosts graduate-level programs for nurse practitioners and physicians assistants through the University of Kentucky. The University has erected a space tracking system in partnership with NASA in the ongoing development of the Ronald G. Eaglin Space Science Center.

MSU established East Kentucky's first public radio station, WMKY, in 1965 and today provides this region of the state with a 24-hour network of three FM transmitters identified as Morehead State Public Radio. Preserving the region's cultural heritage is the primary responsibility of MSU's Kentucky Folk Art Center and Kentucky Center for Traditional Music.

Also, the University has the statewide mission of preparing adult educators through the newly-established Adult Education Academy for Professional Development.

Dr. Wayne D. Andrews will take office on Jan. 1, 2005, as the 13th president of the University, replacing Dr. Ronald G. Eaglin, who ends his 12 and a half year reign as MSU's leader on December 31, 2004. Dr. Andrews previously served as vice president for administration and chief operating officer at East Tennessee State University. President

Andrews was selected in a national search from a field of nearly 170 candidates.

The University is located in the foothills of the Daniel Boone National Forest in Rowan County, midway between Lexington, Ky., and Huntington, W.Va., on Interstate 64.

MSU is a charter member of the Ohio Valley Conference in NCAA Division I and sponsors 18 intercollegiate sports for men and women. They include football, basketball, baseball, cross country, indoor and outdoor track and field, rifle, golf and tennis for men, and volleyball, soccer, basketball, softball, cross country, indoor and outdoor track and field, rifle and tennis for women. The football Eagles compete in the Pioneer Football League. Our coed cheerleading squad has won 14 national championships and the all-girl squad has four national titles.

The University is located in picturesque Daniel Boone National Forest.

UNIVERSITY ADMINISTRATION

Dr. Ronald G. Eaglin, President (through Dec. 31, 2004)

Dr. Ronald G. Eaglin, an outspoken proponent of student success strategies in college administration, has served since July 1, 1992, as the 12th president of Morehead State University, but will resign at the end of the calendar year.

A native of St. Louis, Mo., President Eaglin came to Kentucky from the chancellorship of Coastal South Carolina University in Conway, S.C. Previously, he was vice chancellor for academic affairs at the University of South Carolina at Spartanburg. Earlier, he was the southeast regional director of the American College Testing Program (ACT).

A former chair of Kentucky's Conference of University Presidents, Dr. Eaglin holds a bachelor's degree in biology and mathematics from Southeast Missouri State University, a master's degree in student personnel administration from Southern Illinois University, and a doctoral degree in educational psychology from the University of Utah. At SEMO, he was a member of the varsity tennis team before graduating in 1962.

President Eaglin's expertise in student retention has been highlighted in a research report he wrote for the American Association of Colleges and Universities (AACU) on the role of campus chief executives in helping students be successful in college. Dr. Eaglin initiated a study of the teacher education program on the MSU campus. He was instrumental in this process as he challenged the University to review and improve its teacher education program. In addition, he was involved in the formation of a P-16 regional council which is based at MSU and brings together representatives from the public and private colleges in the area, school superintendents, local government leaders, members of state agencies and CEOs of regional businesses and industry.

The University's CEO has made presentations across the country on student retention and the role of the president in accomplishing this goal. Involved with numerous publications on this topic, he edited the book "Five Habits of Successful Students" published by the International Organization for Student Success.

Dr. Eaglin was a member of the AACU Board of Directors and has had the distinction of representing two different institutions on the NCAA Presidents Commission. He also has served on the NCAA Executive Committee and the Division I Board of Directors and is a past president of the Ohio Valley Conference.

President Eaglin is active in economic development matters in East Kentucky, having served on the Kentucky Appalachian Commission. He is a member of the Board of Directors of the Morehead-Rowan County Chamber of Commerce.

Dr. Eaglin and his wife, Bonnie, have four children and six grandchildren.

Dr. Wayne D. Andrews, President (effective Jan. 1, 2005)

Morehead State University's Board of Regents has selected Dr. Wayne D. Andrews, vice president for administration and chief operating officer at East Tennessee State University, to be the University's 13th president, effective Jan. 1, 2005.

With 27 years of higher education experience at two institutions, Dr. Andrews has served as a tenured professor in engineering technology, department chairperson, executive assistant to the president, vice president for student affairs, vice president for administration, vice president for administration and Chief Operating Officer. He also served as a Fellow of the American Council on Education (ACE).

He is recognized for several major accomplishments at East Tennessee State including: re-accreditation of four programs and first time accreditation of two Engineering Technology (ET) Programs; significant increase in scholarly activity by the ET faculty; major equipment acquisitions for engineering technology; successful external program review of the graduate program; re-affirmation of the University by SACS (co-chair of the re-affirmation process); planned, organized and led the University's Continuous Improvement initiative; major re-organization of the Division of Student Affairs; significant partnerships with Academic Affairs in leadership development and community engagement; partnered with academic affairs to establish the Advisement, Resources and Career Center (ARC); and partnered with student affairs to construct the Center for Physical Activity (CPA).

He also has leadership experience in information technology, management, campus master plan, general university budget and major university-wide initiatives related to diversity.

Dr. Andrews is a graduate of Fitchburg (Mass.) State College where he earned a B.S. degree in 1974, and West Virginia University where he received both an M.A. degree in 1976 and an Ed.D. degree in 1977.

His family includes his wife of 33 years, Susan, a reading specialist in the Johnson City Public Schools; and two children: Josh, 26, and Jill, 24, both ETSU graduates.

ATHLETIC ADMINISTRATION

Brian Hutchinson Interim Director of Athletics

Brian Hutchinson was promoted to the Director of Athletics on an interim basis in September. He previously had served as the Associate Director of Athletics for three years, serving as the sport administrator for football, golf, baseball and volleyball, as well as supervising athletic training, managing the athletic department's day-to-day operations, overseeing the annual budget and serving as the ticket manager.

Hutchinson was the Development Director for two years, before assuming the post of Director of Development and Marketing, which he held for nearly one year. Prior to that, he served 18 months as a regional development officer for the University and six months as a staff assistant in the University's Office of Development and Alumni Relations. In the 2000-01 year, he served an internship with the Ohio Valley Conference office, assisting with the league's baseball championships and summer meetings while earning a master's degree in sports administration.

A 1996 cum laude graduate of Morehead State, Hutchinson earned a Bachelor of Business Administration, specializing in real estate. During his senior year, the Louisa, Ky., native served as the Student Government Association president and was a student representative to the MSU Board of Regents. He has remained active in the alumni association of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, and holds memberships in the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics, National Association of Athletic Development Directors, and Council for Advancement and Support of Education.

Hutchinson was also instrumental with the development of the 2001-06 strategic plan and MSU's successful CHOICES GRANT application. He has attended numerous development and athletics administrations conferences and has been a presenter for the NCAA YES! clinic program hosted by the OVC. Hutchinson served as the championship director for the 2002 OVC golf championship and 2003 OVC volleyball championship, and assisted with the operation of the 2002 Pioneer Football League Championship. He also has been the departmental manager for the renovation of the University Softball Field, and the installation of the Jayne Stadium scoreboard and Davis Soccer Field board, among many other facility improvement projects within athletics.

Hutchinson and his wife, Elizabeth, have two sons, Benjamin and Riley. They reside in Morehead.

The Hutchinson family, Brian, wife, Elizabeth, and sons Benjamin and Riley.

Paula Jackson Assistant Director of Athletics/ Senior Woman Administrator

Paula Jackson comes to MSU after serving in several capacities in Atlanta, Ga., including the Marketing and Promotions Director and owner of Sports Enfocus, the Director of Development and Event Management of the Clark Atlanta University Athletic Booster Association, Inc., and as a member of the Atlanta Falcons Professional Football Team's Game Day Operations Staff.

At CAU, she was the Assistant Director of Athletics and Senior Woman Administrator from June 2001 to May 2003, where she coordinated all travel arrangements, game-day operations, the CHAMPS/Life Skills program, football season ticket sales and student-athlete eligibility. In addition, she also assisted with marketing, academic advising, budget reports and sports information duties, and served as the committee chair for the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Conference's Senior Woman Administrators and on the NCAA Management Council.

In addition to her other experiences, she has served as an Account Manager for Paladin, a Marketing and Sales Manager for MTV Networks Affiliate Sales and Marketing, a Deputy Campaign Manager for Southwest Operations for the Committee to Re-Elect Bill Campbell for Mayor of Atlanta, the Director of Marketing and Public Relations for Burks Bailey Mann, the Assistant Director of Marketing and Promotions for Today's Athletes for Tomorrow International, a Market Research Consultant for the Metro Atlanta Rapid Transit Authority and a freelance marketing and public relations consultant for several Atlanta-based organizations.

A native of Baton Rouge, La., Jackson received her bachelor's degree from Southern (La.) University in broadcast and print journalism with a minor in public relations in 1986. While there, she was a member of the cheerleading squad. She earned her Master of Business Administration from Clark Atlanta in 1991.

Jackson resides in Morehead, with her son Blake.

David Lichtenstein Assistant Director of Athletics

David Lichtenstein, an experienced marketing and promotions specialist in the field of intercollegiate athletics, begins his first year as Assistant Director of Athletics at Morehead State. Lichtenstein joins the MSU staff after serving one year as the Director of Marketing and Promotions at Northern Illinois.

At NIU, he was responsible for implementing plans which culminated in record attendance at Huskie football games and increased season ticket sales for basketball.

Prior to his stint at NIU, he was the Assistant Athletics Director for Marketing and Promotions at Texas-El Paso. There he oversaw an increase in ticket sales for men's and women's basketball, soccer and volleyball.

From 1998-2002, he was the Marketing and Promotions Manager at South Dakota State, where he also coordinated events for the KFC Junior Jacks Club and oversaw the dance and cheerleading squads. He was part of the administrative team which hosted the 2000 NCAA Division II national wrestling championships at SDSU. In addition, he was the conference representative to the National Association for Collegiate Marketing Administrators.

Prior to SDSU, Lichtenstein was the Marketing Coordinator at New Mexico State, where he promoted the school's eight women's sports.

He also served as an intern in the Marketing and Promotions Office at Oregon and as a volunteer assistant at Louisiana State. In addition, he was the Project Coordinator for the made for television special "The Wendy's Classic", an all-star basketball tournament in Columbus, Ohio, in the summer of 1996.

A native of Baton Rouge, La., Lichtenstein earned a bachelor's degree from Arkansas in 1992 and a master's degree from Ohio State in 1996. He was a four-year letterwinner in swimming at both Arkansas and Tulane.

He is single and resides in Clearfield, Ky.

ATHLETIC FACILITIES

Morehead State has at its disposal modern and well-equipped facilities for the use of its athletic teams. Included among those are the William LeGrande Jayne Stadium, the Academic-Athletic Center (AAC), the George A. Sadler Tennis Courts, the John E. "Sonny" Allen Field, the Lawrence B. Wetherby Gym and the University Softball Field. Among the facilities used for purposes other than competition is the Phil Simms Weight Training Facility, a building dedicated by the former Morehead State and New York Giants' football star, which allows MSU athletes every opportunity to enhance their strength and conditioning. In addition, there is a spacious athletic training facility in Jayne Stadium complete with all of the resources needed to enhance the training of MSU athletes, and allowing them to rehabilitate and recover from injuries quickly and safely.

Athletic Training Room

One of the major support services offered to the athletes at Morehead State is the main athletic training center located at Jayne Stadium. This facility provides a wide range of options for the treatment and rehabilitation of sports injuries. It contains four whirlpools, four electric stimulators, two ultrasound units and nine treatment tables, along with a wide range of exercise and rehabilitation equipment. Morehead State also staffs two remote athletic training rooms located at the AAC and Wetherby Gym. The athletic training staff includes the Athletic Training Director Richard Fletcher, ATC; Assistant Athletic Trainer Jamey Carver, ATC; Staff Assistant Athletic Trainer Sara Larson, ATC; and Graduate Assistant Athletic Trainers, Joe Grigsby and BJ Geasa, ATC. In addition, six students provide ancillary support. Other vitally important members of the medical staff include, orthopedic surgeon Tom Fossett MD and team optometrist, Thomas McHugh OD. The athletic training staff also utilizes the University health clinic located on campus in Allie Young Hall. The University Clinic staffs nurse practitioners and physicians contracted through St. Claire Regional Medical Center, which is located in Morehead.

Weight Rooms

MSU athletes have two primary weight room facilities for their use. The largest is the Phil Simms Weight Training Facility, located at Jayne Stadium. The other facility is in the AAC. The volleyball team uses both, as well as one in the Laughlin Health Building and one at the Wellness Center. All include modern equipment, which can help each of MSU's athletes to achieve the highest level of strength training.
